

ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY

BENEFITS GUIDE

AUSA BENEFITS KEEP GROWING!

Who knew, right? I've been a life member of the Association of the United States Army since my earliest days in uniform. My husband and I joined because we knew that AUSA is the only non-profit professional development association serving all of America's Army. We love the Army and wanted to be part of a larger community of people who supported it. And, we wanted our voices to be heard on issues affecting our military.

But other than getting the great ARMY magazine, I never paid much attention to the benefits AUSA offered. Then I joined the staff here, and my eyes were opened. I was greatly surprised by how much AUSA offers its members. I thought I'd better open my ears as well, and hear what others thought were the most valuable services. So, we asked a lot of folks what they thought.

What you see in these pages reflects what we've heard from you, so far. We know that our members join AUSA because you want to give your support to our Army, and you like what you get from AUSA as we strive to educate, inform, and connect our members on issues important to national security. But we also want you to know that you can save real money by using your AUSA member benefits. And who doesn't like getting a great deal? You certainly deserve it.

You'll find education and career help, travel and entertainment, merchandise (cool stuff), digital devices, insurance, wellness help, books, magazines, community, and a ton of ways to connect our Army with the Nation it serves.

We'll keep working to add benefits important to our members. Your AUSA staff is committed to serving our members as we support the world's best Army. We continue to grow and add new programs, so please visit www.USA.org/savings often for our latest products, services, and savings.

Thank you for your membership and support,

Patricia E. McQuiston

Lieutenant General, U.S. Army Retired
Vice President, Membership and Meetings

Thank you for joining the Association of the United States Army (AUSA)! Together, we will continue forward with our shared mission: to provide a voice for the Army, support for the Soldier, and honor those who have served.

Since 1950, AUSA has worked to advance the interests of America's Army and support all aspects of national security. But have you ever wondered what that means for you? Keep this handy booklet nearby as a reminder of all the ways you can engage with your AUSA community and apply these benefits to your personal growth.

www.ausa.org/chapters

AUSA's devoted regional, state, and chapter leaders are passionate member volunteers and the lifeblood between AUSA National and its 150,000+ members. This leadership, along with local members across AUSA's 122 chapters around the globe, leverage local government and business contacts to improve the professional, economic, and social quality of life in Army communities.

Chapters provide a wide array of local programs to support current and former Army members and their families, from scholarships to recognition for outstanding service. Connect with your chapter to learn more.

EVENTS

Symposia & Expositions

www.ausa.org/meet

Military/Government is Free

AUSA is recognized in the defense community for its professional development symposia and expositions. Our Annual Meeting is the largest land power exposition and professional development forum in North America. Held annually in Washington D.C., the AUSA Annual Meeting and Exposition attracts 30,000+ attendees, 600+ state-of-the-art exhibits, expert panels and seminars, and engagement with top Army and government leaders. Registration is free.

The AUSA Global Force Symposium & Exposition, held in Huntsville, Alabama, is a three-day professional development event focused on force transformation and adaptability, critical points of acquisition, research and development, and military/industry partnerships.

The AUSA LANPAC Symposium & Exposition, held in Honolulu, Hawaii, is a world-class, international event highlighting the role of land forces in the Indo-Asia-Pacific theater and their contributions in peace and war.

The AUSA Army Autonomy and Artificial Intelligence Symposium & Exposition, held in Detroit, Michigan, is a technology conference with innovative product demos, interactive panel sessions, and market intelligence acquisition.

AUSA also leads the USA Security and Defense Pavilion at defense expositions abroad, offering networking opportunities with key decision makers, full-service support, and increased visibility in the global market.

Special topic symposia and expositions are added based on the Army's most urgent priorities. Check back often to see our latest offerings.

ARMY Magazine

www.ausa.org/armymagazine

Non-Member Price: $53/year

Born as the Infantry Journal in 1904, ARMY magazine includes articles, letters, and opinion pieces by current and former Army leaders of all ranks—military and civilian—fulfilling AUSA's core objectives: to tell the Army's story, show the Army's vital role in national security, and advance the profession of Soldiering.

Published in print and digital forms, members receive 12 issues of the magazine each year, including our special October edition, the Green Book, published in conjunction with AUSA's Annual Meeting.

ARMY Matters Podcast

www.ausa.org/podcast

AUSA's new ARMY Matters podcast focuses on issues relevant to Soldiers, military families, and Army supporters. The podcast features four rotating segments: Soldier Today, Army Real Talk, Family Voices, and Thought Leaders. New episodes drop every Monday.

Hosted by AUSA's Vice President of NCO & Soldier Programs, Soldier Today focuses on trending topics and professional development for today's NCO. Topics have included the new NCO Evaluation System, PCS Moves, leadership, fitness, and online credentialing opportunities.

Army Real Talk, hosted by the Director of AUSA's Institute of Land Warfare, discusses defense and Army matters with students and young professionals in mind. Topics have included women in the Army, leadership, and the breadth and depth of the Army's 150+ career opportunities.

Family Voices, hosted by AUSA's Director of Family Readiness, aims to connect Army families to speakers and issues that are important to their everyday lives. Topics have included quality of life discussions with senior Army Leaders, Army benefits, financial readiness, and health management.

Thought Leaders, hosted by AUSA's Book Program Director and Director of National Security Studies, brings in-depth conversations with authors of military books as well as insights from senior Army leaders. Special guests have included #1 New York Times bestselling author and History Channel television host Brad Meltzer, bestselling author and documentary television producer Josh Mensch, and Pulitzer Prize-winning author Rick Atkinson.

AUSA Extrawww.ausa.org/extra

Launched in May 2019, AUSA Extra (previously AUSA News) is a weekly digital newspaper featuring articles on the latest AUSA and Army news. It includes columns from subject matter experts on NCO and Soldier programs, Army legislation, Army family readiness, and the latest Army updates.

AUSA Extra also highlights outstanding chapter achievements and new AUSA member services and savings opportunities.

Book Programwww.ausa.org/books

The AUSA Book Program publishes military-related titles about Army heritage, military theory and policy, and security in the modern world. AUSA members can purchase these titles at a discounted rate.

In addition to more traditional publications, the Book Program also publishes graphic novels available for free download.
