

Back by popular demand—the AUSA Hot Topic Series! As the landscape is ever-changing, AUSA hosts an ongoing series of one-day professional development events designed with input from key Army staff and major commands. These seminars promote a dialog regarding issues relevant to today's Army and the industry partners that support the Army mission.

Each event provides targeted opportunities for academia, press and industry leaders to:

- Connect and exchange ideas with military leaders and government policymakers;
- Help solve the Army's greatest challenges;
- Learn about current capabilities, future requirements, and Soldiers' needs;
- Understand critical changes in the defense industry and impact on future business policies; and
- Have a voice in high-level public forums to influence our Army's future.

Sponsorships are per event. Check out https://www.ausa.org/meet for event-specific information.
